Pengana International Equities Limited (PIA) Appoints New Manager

On 10 May, PIA announced the replacement investment team for the management of the portfolio after Jordan Cvetanovski and Steven Glass abruptly exited the business in March. New Jersey based Harding Loevner LP have been appointed as the new investment team. Harding Loevner are a global equity manager with over 100 employees and over US$84b FUM. As a result of the appointment, PIA will adopt the Harding Loevner global equity strategy with the addition of PIA's ethical screens.

PIA has stated that Harding Loevner's investment philosophy supports PIA's objective to provide shareholders with capital growth from investing in an ethically screened and actively managed portfolio of global businesses, in addition to providing shareholders with regular, reliable and fully franked dividends.

The IIR rating for PIA is currently "on watch" and will be reviewed once a full evaluation of the new investment team and strategy is completed.

MXT Raises $192m through Institutional Placement

On 26 April, MCP Master Income Trust (MXT) announced they had received binding commitments for 95.9m new units in MXT at a price of $2.00 per unit from wholesale and institutional investors, raising $192m.

The proceeds will be invested in accordance with the investment mandate and target return of MXT. The Metric's Managing Partner, Andrew Lockhart, commented "The additional investor capital will provide for increased portfolio diversification which acts to lower investment risk, expected positive impact on total investor returns as new capital is deployed and invested, enhanced liquidity from the increased scale of MXT and expected further reductions in costs over time."

MEC releases 1H'21 Results

On 18 May, Morhic Ethical Equities Fund (MEC) released its financial results for the half year ended 31 March 2021. Strong portfolio performance for the period resulted in MEC declaring a fully franked interim dividend of 2.5 cents per share, a 150% increase on the previous interim dividend. Before payment of the dividend, the company had dividend coverage of in excess of five years at an annual dividend rate of 5 cents per share.

BTI Raise $4m From SPP

Bailador Technology Investments Limited (BTI) SPP closed on 18 May. BTI received applications of $4m from eligible shareholders. The SPP followed the $20m institutional placement completed in April with shares in the SPP offered at the same price as the institutional placement.

The capital will be used to capitalise on a pipeline of investments that the Manager believes represents good value for investors.

MA1 Suspended from Trading as the Restructure to an ETMF Continues

On 10 May, MA1 shareholders overwhelmingly voted in favour of restructuring the company as an exchange traded managed fund (ETMF). On 28 May, MA1 was suspended from trading and will be delisted on 1 June. Units in the newly created ETMF named Monash Absolute Active Trust (Hedge Fund) are being issued to shareholders on an in-specie basis and are expected to commence trading on the ASX under the new ticker MAAT on 10 June.

The ETMF will utilise the Single Unit (dual registry) Structure, which will allow for unitholders to buy and sell units either on-market or off-market.

APL Provides Update on Conditional Tender Offer (CTO)

Antipodes Global Investment Company Limited (APL) provided an update on the CTO during May. The CTO was announced on 31 August 2020 and was overwhelmingly approved by shareholders at the AGM in November 2020.

The CTO is the company's primary discount management mechanism. The CTO is triggered if the average daily discount is greater than 7.5% for the 12-month period from 19 October 2020 to 18 October 2021. The average daily discount since the period began until 14 May 2021 is 12.1%. If triggered, the CTO provides shareholders the ability to sell APL shares to the company via an off-market buy-back at a price equal to the prevailing post-tax NTA less 2%. The company will buy back a maximum of 25% of issued capital.

Given the average daily discount remains above the discount trigger of 7.5%, unless the discount narrows substantially over the coming months the CTO will be triggered. Depending on where the share price is trading at end of the period, there may be an arbitrage opportunity for shareholders.

NSC Issues Bonus Options

Naos Small Cap Opportunities Company Limited (NSC) has issued Bonus Options to shareholders on a 1-for-3 basis. The options will have an exercise price of $1.02 and an exercise date of 28 June 2024. The exercise price represents a 29.1% premium to the NSC share price at 30 April 2021.

WAM Strategic Value Limited (WAR) Offer Opens

The WAR IPO offer opened in May and is expected to close on 10 June 2021. The offer seeks to raise up to $250m through the issue of up to 180m shares at $1.25 per share. The company will seek to invest in a portfolio of LICs and LITs that are trading at a discount to NTA/NAV in which the reasons for the discount can be identified and the Manager believes it can provide or implement techniques and strategies that could assist with narrowing the discount. The portfolio will typically comprise 10 to 30 holdings with individual position sizes typically ranging from 1%-15%. Given the underlying investments, the portfolio is expected to be diversified by both underlying security and investment strategy. The initial portfolio is expected to primarily comprise LICs/LITs that are held by vehicles managed by Wilson Asset Management and are trading at a discount.

Does Size Matter?

This month we take a look at the LIC/LIT sector focusing on the relationship of a LICs/LITs Size, measured by Market Capitalisation ("Size"), versus share price discount or premium to NTA ("Discount"). Note, the below analysis plots Market Capitalisation (X axis) on a log scale to better reflect the relationships and account for the large disparity in Market Capitalisation ($20m to $10b). For Discount we have used the three year average discount/premium. We have used linear log regression to plot the relationships and use R² to measure the relationship strength.

Size vs Discount (Whole Universe)

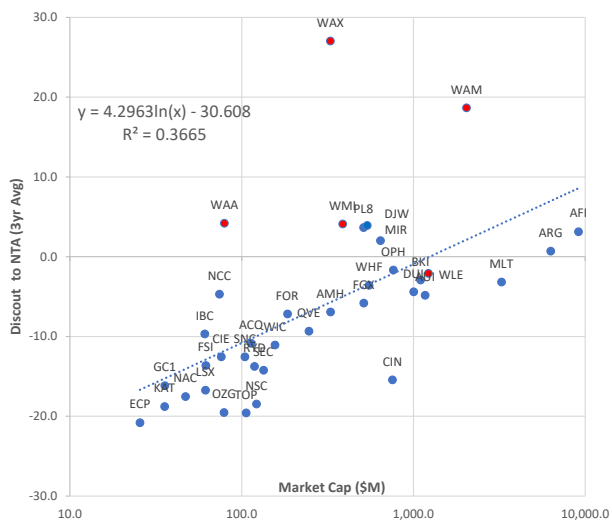

Source: Iress, IIR

Looking at the entire LIC/LIT universe there seems to be quite a strong relationship between Size and Discount. The larger the LIC/LIT, the lower the Discount irrespective of the investment universe.

This is unsurprising as overall the larger LICs/LITs mainly follow diversified and Index hugging strategies in addition to typically providing greater liquidity. We would expect discounts to be narrower than smaller LICs/LITs that often employ more active strategies that are less index aware and thus riskier. The more specialised LICs/LITs also tend to be smaller and employ alternate strategies such as long/short, or sectorial focus (resources, infrastructure). As a general rule the greater the risk undertaken the lower the premium or greater the discount investors are willing to pay.

Next we explore whether a LICs/LITs investable universe has an effect on the Discount to Size relationship by plotting it for the various LIC/LIT subsectors.

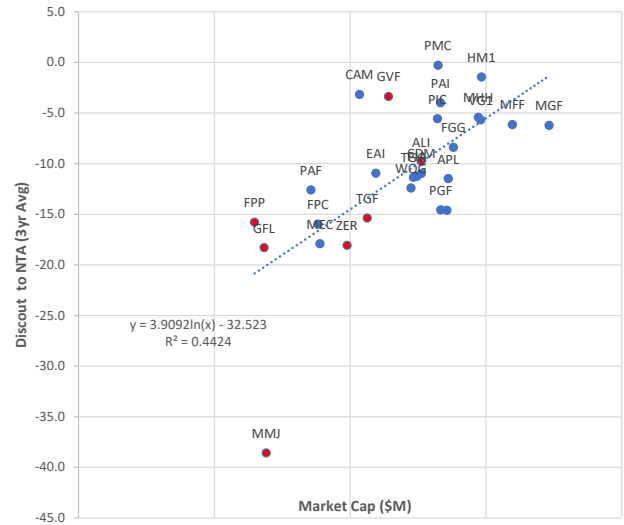

Size vs Discount (Australian Shares)

Source: Iress, IIR

The biggest group in the LIC universe by far are those focused on Australian Shares (both Large Cap and Mid/Small Cap). Interestingly despite a similar focus (domestic shares) the relationship isn't much stronger than the overall results, but we do note this group is almost half the entire universe.

Size vs Discount (International Shares)

Source: Iress, IIR

LICs/LITs focused on International Shares shows a stronger relationship between Discount vs Size compared to Australian equity focused LICs/LITs. We point out that all of these LICs trade at a discount to NTA, none attracting a premium on a 3-year average basis further highlighting their perceived risk. Interestingly, if we remove the International specialist LICs shown in Red in the scatter plot, the relationship between Discount to Size is much weaker ($R^2 = 0.288$).

Size vs Discount (Other)

Source: Iress, IIR

Above we look at the LIC/LIT sectors that employ alternative strategies to long only strategies (Fixed Income Funds, Absolute Return Funds, Other Specialist). This has the weakest relationship of Discount vs Size which belies the smaller sample size for this group plus the variety of investment strategies in addition to geographic and asset liquidity considerations. The variability in discount is quite noticeable, though the Fixed Income LICs/LITs trade at smaller discounts (denoted by red circle), as one would expect given the lower volatility of the asset universe.

Lastly we look at the effect of the investment manager on the Discount to Size relationship. Over the last 20 years, Wilson Asset Management (WAM) has established themselves in the Australian LIC sector as well-regarded investment managers. Consequently, their LICs are somewhat outliers in the LIC universe attracting significant premiums to NTA based on investors willingness to pay a premium.

To show the WAM effect we have repeated the Australian Shares analysis and removed the WAM LICs (red dots in the above Australian Shares scatter plot). The effect on the Discount to Size relationship is quite significant ($R^2=0.61$ from $R^2= 0.35$). We think better demonstrates the Size to Discount relationship.

Size vs Discount (Australian Shares ex WAM LICs)

Source: Iress, IIR

So the take away from this analysis is that when looking at discount/premiums to NTA, Size does matter as a general rule. This is more so for LICs/LITs with long only equity strategies. However, Size may merely be a proxy of perceived risk, and investors are more likely to invest in LICs/LITs that follow lower risk/more passive strategies such as investing in yield generating securities that are very liquid. What was highlighted in the above analysis is that investor confidence in a Manager is a key mitigating factor in this Discount to Size relationship; to the extent that such LICs can trade at significant premiums to NTA irrespective of their size.

Next month we intend to explore the Discount vs Size relationship over time to see if these discounts are persistent, and if not how they have they shifted for the various sectors.

Active ETFs

About Active ETFs

Active ETFs are a relatively new type of exchange traded product (ETP) traded on the ASX and Chi-X. While traditional exchange traded funds (ETFs) adopt passive strategies that synthetically track the performance of an index or other benchmark. Active ETFs are actively managed funds. The legal structure is the same as a traditional managed fund, but the units can be bought and sold on the ASX just like shares. Unlike listed investment companies, Active ETFs are open-ended with a market maker. This ensures the units trade close to net asset value. The manager issues new units as required to meet market demand.

WHO IS IIR?

Independent Investment Research, "IIR", is an independent investment research house based in Australia and the United States. IIR specialises in the analysis of high quality commissioned research for Brokers, Family Offices and Fund Managers. IIR distributes its research in Asia, United States and the Americas. IIR does not participate in any corporate or capital raising activity and therefore it does not have any inherent bias that may result from research that is linked to any corporate/ capital raising activity.

IIR was established in 2004 under Aegis Equities Research Group of companies to provide investment research to a select group of retail and wholesale clients. Since March 2010, IIR (the Aegis Equities business was sold to Morningstar) has operated independently from Aegis by former Aegis senior executives/shareholders to provide clients with unparalleled research that covers listed and unlisted managed investments, listed companies, structured products, and IPOs.

IIR takes great pride in the quality and independence of our analysis, underpinned by high caliber staff and a transparent, proven and rigorous research methodology.

INDEPENDENCE OF RESEARCH ANALYSTS

Research analysts are not directly supervised by personnel from other areas of the Firm whose interests or functions may conflict with those of the research analysts. The evaluation and appraisal of research analysts for purposes of career advancement, remuneration and promotion is structured so that non-research personnel do not exert inappropriate influence over analysts.

Supervision and reporting lines: Analysts who publish research reports are supervised by, and report to, Research Management. Research analysts do not report to, and are not supervised by, any sales personnel nor do they have dealings with Sales personnel.

Evaluation and remuneration: The remuneration of research analysts is determined on the basis of a number of factors, including quality, accuracy and value of research, productivity, experience, individual reputation, and evaluations by investor clients.

INDEPENDENCE – ACTIVITIES OF ANALYSTS

IIR restricts research analysts from performing roles that could prejudice, or appear to prejudice, the independence of their research.

Pitches: Research analysts are not permitted to participate in sales pitches for corporate mandates on behalf of a Broker and are not permitted to prepare or review materials for those pitches. Pitch materials by investor clients may not contain the promise of research coverage by IIR.

No promotion of issuers' transactions: Research analysts may not be involved in promotional or marketing activities of an issuer of a relevant investment that would reasonably be construed as representing the issuer. For this reason, analysts are not permitted to attend "road show" presentations by issuers that are corporate clients of the Firm relating to offerings of securities or any other investment banking transaction from that our clients may undertake from time to time. Analysts may, however, observe road shows remotely, without asking questions, by video link or telephone in order to help ensure that they have access to the same information as their investor clients.

Widely-attended conferences: Analysts are permitted to attend and speak at widely-attended conferences at which our firm has been invited to present our views. These widely-attended conferences may include investor presentations by corporate clients of the Firm.

Other permitted activities: Analysts may be consulted by Firm sales personnel on matters such as market and industry trends, conditions and developments and the structuring, pricing and expected market reception of securities offerings or other market operations. Analysts may also carry out preliminary due diligence and vetting of issuers that may be prospective research clients of ours.

INDUCEMENTS AND INAPPROPRIATE INFLUENCES

IIR prohibits research analysts from soliciting or receiving any inducement in respect of their publication of research and restricts certain communications between research analysts and personnel from other business areas within the Firm including management, which might be perceived to result in inappropriate influence on analysts' views.

Remuneration and other benefits: IIR procedures prohibit analysts from accepting any remuneration or other benefit from an issuer or any other party in respect of the publication of research and from offering or accepting any inducement (including the selective disclosure by an issuer of material information not generally available) for the publication of favourable research. These restrictions do not preclude the acceptance of reasonable hospitality in accordance with the Firm's general policies on entertainment, gifts and corporate hospitality.
